Federation A G M

The annual meeting was held at Arbury on 11th November.

Bill Gibb took the chair for his last meeting as President after an excellent two years in which time he was invited to visit most of our societies including those at the extremities of our region.

The treasurer, Richard Husband, presented his 'inspected' accounts which showed a loss for the year of £427, £241 of which was due to societies having a 9/12 discount in subscriptions with our financial year being changed. He predicted a loss of between £150 and £200 for 2017/8.

The main item of discussion focussed on competitions and particularly, the proposed changes for 2019 onwards. These were passed unanimously.

In a nutshell, the structure of competitions will change thus:

The 9 sheet inter-society classes will continue as now BUT with only one entry per society, instead of the current two.

There will be 16 sheet competitions every year for ALL classes recognised by the ABPS including:
traditional, postal history, thematic, aerophilately, open class, postal stationery, cinderellas, revenues and picture post cards.

The trophies awarded for these competitions and that for the winning society will be retained.

In the 16 sheet classes, a new winner's certificate will be awarded, while all other entrants will receive certificates as now. Completed mark sheets will continue to be produced to help competitors see where more marks may be gained as a result of the judging process.

It is further proposed to alter our mark schemes as it is felt that at Federation level 30 marks for rarity is too many and good presentation and research should be given greater importance.

Decisions on this will be made at the next Federation committee meeting in January prior to the launch of the 2018 competitions at the end of that month.

(Comments should be sent to Mike Kentzer -mike.kentzer@gmail.com.)

At the end of the A G M Bill Gibb handed over the Presidency to Terry Wagg. Mike Kentzer was elected Vice President while all other officers remain the same, a hard working team.

Stamp Day.

Whittlesford 2nd September

An excellent day was enjoyed by only 17 delegates as Terry Wagg FRPSL entertained us with a PowerPoint display followed by two fine and different exhibits based on the West Indies' island of Dominica by Simon Richards FRPSL (Oxford P S). As well as the main displays a selection of entries from July's Convention were on show and changed during the day. About two thirds of those present popped out to a local pub/hotel for pre-ordered lunches and with the use of our own room this was a most sociable gathering.

Terry showed us the life story and some of the finest engravings of the Polish engraver Czelaw Slania who was born in 1921. From his earliest days he had a reputation for 'mischief' such as when he made his own snack vouchers for use at school and tickets for boxing matches – his favourite sport – to watch!

His early work often featured his humour such as when he used his own image on a Polish stamp fitting a tyre on a car in a factory. He also engraved the names of family and friends into stamp designs. At the height of the Communist period in Poland he was a supporter of opposition parties and this may have been the reason for his 'escape' to Sweden. But what about exit visas and passports they were unobtainable at the time!!

Eventually he was able to take over as the Swedish Post Office's main engraver, brought about largely by a series of engraved labels he made of film stars and heavyweight boxers. Over the next 5 decades he was to engrave 1070 stamps for various countries, including GB. He also engraved major parts of bank notes.

In all a wonderful presentation, backed up by 90 sheets of his best work, Terry gave us a superb beginning to the day.

He has since been asked to consider entering a four or five frame exhibit of Slania for the 2018 Australian 'Stampex'.

After tea and coffee Simon Richards FRPSL took us south and west to Dominica, purported to have first been sighted by Columbus on his second voyage.

The early years of mail from the island were continually affected by wars such as the American War of Independence and the problems with France with the Revolution and of course Napoleon's campaigns, particularly as Dominica's two neighbours were Guadeloupe – to the north and Martinique to the south. In fact the island was occupied by the French from 1778 -1782.

The earliest known letter from Dominica sent to London in 1763 was shown as were early ship letters from 1776. In 1790 a two line DOMINICA strike was introduced followed by a single line version. Later covers from 1815 included undated fleuron marks and (London) additional half strikes together with rare ship letter marks for Bright/Helm/Stone (Brighton) and Sidmouth.

By 1799 it had become clear that ship owners and traders were presenting fraudulent insurance claims for ships and cargoes that had either already been lost at sea or never sailed. Thus a request went to London for a dated hand stamp – known as the Freeling – which was received back on the island in record time. Mail was often either lost at sea or to pirates and privateers and still in the 1830s it was common practice to send duplicate letters to ensure their arrival, even though by then the royal navy had taken over responsibility for letters in 1823.

British stamps cancelled with 'A 07' were in use between 1858 and April 1860 when Dominica took control of its posts. The island's first stamps the 1d lilac the 6d green and 1/- magenta did not appear until 1874. These were present along with several interesting usages. Three years later the same values were reprinted with a change of perforation and in 1879 the addition of three new values for UPU: 2½d red-brown, 4d blue and 1/- magenta. We saw essays and proofs, overprints and bisects both as stamps and on cover.

In 1890, in order to save money on the production of stamps for five islands: Antigua, British Virgin Islands, Dominica, Montserrat and St Kitts-Nevis, the Federal Colony of the Leeward Islands decided that individual island issues be replaced by Leeward Island stamps the first of which was a set of 8 stamps from the ½d to 5/-. These were followed in 1897 by the stamps being specially hand struck to commemorate Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee and then by three 1d overprints on the 4d, 6d and 7d stamps which were surcharged in Antigua. There was concurrent use of both sets of issues until 1903 and examples of such usages were on show.

In 1903 a new Dominican stamp design was issued featuring the town and port of Roseau from the sea. In 1907/8 the 10 values were re-issued on Crown CA paper, replacing the earlier Crown CC. The 5/- value differed in that it featured the head of Edward VII. Again we had die proofs and a wonderful pre-printing sheet from De La Rue with manuscript instructions for minute alterations. There were several varied usages of this issue on view. A further issue of the 'Roseau' stamps was produced with a multiple Crown script CA watermark and this design remained in use until 1923, albeit with a change to multiple script CA in 1921-22. The 5/- value featured George V from 1914. In 1918 two values were overprinted 'WAR TAX' – the 1/2d and 3d. In the following year another War Tax stamp was issued incorporating a new value of 1½d.

1923 saw the introduction of the 21 stamps featuring George V facing a device from the island seal – the 'twin medallions' - with values to £1.

Again we had not only the stamps as issued but with many usages including early air mails sent first by ship to Antigua, though for a brief period they went via St Lucia. These air mails were carried by the U.S. FAM 6 route.

The afternoon session was quite different in that it offered 6 x 15 sheet displays showing a variety of approaches to collecting a country, in this case Dominica.

George VI definitives – not just the basic values but rejected De La Rue essays, pinhole specimens, blocks of four of several values showing the four different printings with exhibited remarkable consistency despite WW2 and, of course some covers, including sent to Australia and the Falklands during the war.

Leeward Island issues – from 1890 onwards, with die proofs, covering the four reigns from QV to Geo VI, with registered covers, including George VI from the brief period from 1938 to December 1939, before Dominica left that Confederation.

Wars and censorship – here were hand stamps and envelope seals with 3 designs and both red and black printing used.

Postal stationery – QV to Geo V period covered – with specimens, used examples, some uprated and used items to GB and Holland.

Local post marks – a selection of stamps with clear village cancels from the original early 20th century 14 post offices in the island's 12 parishes. Later items into the QEII period traced the spread of post offices into the modern era.

Picture post cards – monochrome examples (30) from 1903 onwards showing a variety of views, harbours, the tropical vegetation and locals were well written up and provided yet another angle on collecting Dominica.

After a vote of thanks from President, Bill Gibb, certificates were awarded to the two speakers followed by a raffle, with Simon Richards shown to the left.

This was a wonderful day, well received by those fortunate enough to attend. It was therefore a shame that only 17 people were able to make it to Whittlesford, and sad to reflect on the poor support from local societies.

Autumn Stampex 2017

Once again the ABPS put on a grand show which included, as usual, plenty of fine displays and competition entries. The largest display was put up by the Sarawak Specialists Society whose 150 frames were rather well supplied by Jon Higgins 31 frames in 9 separate displays, two of which were competitive entries. We also entered the InterFed competition where each Federation could offer 3 entries from 3 different classes.

It was also pleasing note that immediate past president, David Belton, was on one of the panels of judges which assessed the InterFed competitions.

Society Reports

Isle of Ely

Chris North arranged a season of 11 meetings with a wide range of topics. Mike Brindle started in September with a wide variety of material from Belgium which was rather eye opening. Sleaford's Pam Hiscock introduced us to the world's third oldest profession – Pirates – with stamps, covers and ephemera, and not just a few stories!

In November Dr Simon Kelly entertained the society with 'an evening with newspapers' which included newspaper stamps, wrappers and deliveries. The Christmas meeting was most sociable with Terry Wagg putting on a display of Christmas mail and cards. The New Year saw the first society auction run by Terry Wagg and Mike Kentzer, which was run while the society's competitions were being judged.

'Shipping Issues' was the February subject presented by Val Roberts which covered a diverse range of ship related material and stories. March saw the society venturing over to Huntingdon P S, while the month's home fixture was the President's choice and he had invited Bill Gibb, Federation President, to put on a wonderful selection of Commonwealth Fiscals and revenues. In April a fine display of 'Birds of Prey' was given by Richard Page who's enthusiasm for the subject was reflected in his material and its presentation. Later that month the society held its annual dinner at Ely Golf Club. Philip Ilsley from King's Lynn showed QV Jubilees and George V stamps in May with great enthusiasm and the 'year' ended with the AGM and a bourse. Val Roberts

Huntingdonshire (first half of the season)

The 2016/17 season began with President John George presenting a wide ranging display of the Sudan starting with overprints of Egyptian stamps, first issues and overprints, TPOs, military FPOs, censor marks, military telegraph stamps and some commemorative issues.

Later that month members displayed items beginning with F and B. Displays included BOAC air mails, fungi, Fiji, Fujeira, Belize, Barbuda and British Honduras and Local postal history.

In October Lorraine Maguire brought a selection of Australia and New Zealand starting with the award of the mail contract to P & O in 1888 and traced the carriage of mail up to World War 1 and the requisitioning of many of the ships, mostly as hospital ships. Later mail included items related to the Assisted Passage Migration scheme. Throughout the display there were many examples of advertising, ships' menus and passenger lists.

M and V were the subject of the next gathering with such areas as Victoria State, the Mallard locomotive, Mogul and Marshall tractor advertising and 'mail for free'. Adrian Boggust entertained in November with a fine display of Newfoundland, Britain's oldest colony. Starting with their own first issue in 1857 Adrian showed a wide range of later issues with air mail overprints (1919) through the reign of George V and VI together with TPOs and first flight covers, up to 1949 when Newfoundland joined the confederation of Canada.

Peter Pugh showed his impolitely display of the early years of the Trans-Siberian Railway giving an entertaining display showing the construction of the line from China to Siberia and the motive power used. An early start to the carrying of mail in 1903, including to the UK, was halted by the Japanese-Russian War, but started up again in 1907. December saw the Christmas meeting with members invited to display anything to go with mince pies.
